

Doggone We're Excited!

Santa Fe – La Fonda on the Plaza is now welcoming dogs – accompanied by their owners, of course - and the hotel is gearing up for a Pet Friendly transition. “We’ve had so many requests from our guests to bring their pets,” says General Manager, John Rickey, “that we decided to designate 14 rooms on our first floor for guests with pets – dogs less than 40lbs.”

From a dog’s perspective, a stay at La Fonda on the Plaza should be “Doggone Exciting.” Why? Well, for one thing, Santa Fe is a very dog friendly destination, and La Fonda is smack dab in the middle of just about everything. The Plaza is steps away, as are galleries, shops, museums and great goings on all summer long. There are wonderful walking paths along the river, sidewalks to explore and hiking trails that will delight both two-and four-legged travelers. By the end of the day, a pooch will be ready for a big long nap in one of La Fonda on the Plaza’s wonderful guest rooms, with maybe a complimentary treat or two!
